

Rinnai Now Offers Common Venting Up to 12 Units, Offers the Longest and Smallest Diameter Common Venting In the Industry

PEACHTREE CITY, Ga. (January 14, 2019) – Rinnai Corporation, manufacturer of the number-one selling brand of tankless gas water heaters in North America, is announcing it now offers 6-inch diameter Common Venting up to 12 units.

With this new offering, an installer can now common vent the Rinnai Sensei™ CU199i, RU199i and RU180i up to 12 units with 6-inch diameter venting using Rinnai's Common Vent System (Polypropylene) or Schedule 40 PVC/CPVC.

With more units, smaller diameter venting and longer vent runs – now up to 41 feet – installers have more selling options for their commercial customers. In addition, installers can also offer customers lower cost of vent materials, greater flexibility in vent routing and terminations, and fewer penetration cuts into walls and roofs.

“Rinnai offers the most commercial venting solutions with unmatched performance while reducing installation time and costs,” said Dale Schmitz, Marketing Manager at Rinnai America Corporation.
